Steel Work Goes Up For Salem-Sterling Company's New Plant Addition

The Sterling-Salem Corporation, manufacturer of the "Sterling" boat trailer, is expanding its plant on the New Garden Rd. with the erection of an addition to the main fabrication shop.

Cost of the new 44-by-120-foot addition is $18,500 and Lloyd H. Parker, company president, said the construction is the result of a rising demand for present products and a planned diversification into new products.

The "Sterling" boat trailers are sold nationally through marine distributors. A number are exported each year to South America, Arabia, El Salvador, Mexico, and Canada.

The original company, Save-

Way Sales & Manufacturing, Inc., was incorporated in 1948. Boat trailers and space heating furnaces were its principal products until Aug. 7, 1962, when all of the stock of Save-Way Sales & Manufacturing, Inc. was sold to the Sterling-Salem Corporation. Parker and James E. Cunningham remained as president and vice president. John B. Kroot of Warren became treasurer and Mrs. Parker, secretary.

Sterling-Salem Corporation immediately embarked on a program of diversification and product development. The purchase of the Sterling-Salem Plant, Page 8

Trio Charged With Evading Taxes

Brothers of Slain Mahoning Rackets Figure Are Indicted

CLEVELAND (AP)—A federal grand jury here has indicted three brothers of slain Youngstown racket figure James Vincent (Vince) Deniro on charges of conspiring to evade estate and income taxes.

Also indicted Wednesday by the jury were three other Youngstown area men on fraud charges stemming from home-loan insurance through two federal agencies. The jury returned 18 separate indictments.

Before the latest indictments, a federal grand jury probing racket conditions in Mahoning County had indicted 12 other persons. Federal authorities began more than two years ago an intensive investigation in the wake of a series of unsolved bombings and gangland slayings in the Youngstown area. There have been 83 bombings in the area in less than 11 years.

The Deniro brothers — Frank Jr., 39, Michael, 43, and Louis, 33—were charged in the indictments with evading $111,020 in estate taxes when they took over the assets left by their brother, Vince Deniro.

Vince Deniro, 39, was killed July 17, 1961, by a bomb rigged to the ignition of his car. Authorities said the slain racket figure controlled a large numbers operation, a restaurant and a vending machine firm in Youngstown, along with other enterprises. The indictment said he left assets of $391,000, on which the estate owned $111,020 in taxes.

There are five counts in the indictment. One charges the brothers with conspiring to take over the assets and to evade the estate tax. Another alleges they wilfully evaded payment of the estate tax. Three other counts charge each brother with making false statements to Internal Revenue investigators.

Charged in four counts of allegedly making fraudulent statements to obtain home loan insurance from the Veterans Administration and the Federal Housing Authority (FHA) were Saul Friedkin, vice president of Homes, Inc., and his nephew, Kenneth Burdman. Burdman was in charge of sales for the indicted on a single count of alleged fraud. Large housing developments in Youngstown, Warren and Hubbard.

Allen Udell, secretary of Youngstown Mortgage Co., was indicted on a single count of allegedly making a false statement to obtain FHA home loan insurance.

Accord Ends Strike Threat; LBJ Elated

Pact Gives Union Money Gains, Lets Companies Cut Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP)—A give and take agreement has ended the threat of a nationwide railroad strike, with President Johnson a victor in the toughest domestic test of his administration.

A few hours after the agreement was reached, two dissident union officials threatened to strike part of the New York Central Railroad. But sources involved in the negotiations in Washington discounted the possibility that the threat would be carried out.

Announced Settlement

Johnson, obviously elated, went before television cameras Wednesday night to announce settlement of the long, highly complex dispute a little more than 48 hours before a scheduled strike threatened to tie the nation's economy in knots.

The agreement in effect gave union members financial gains in exchange for letting the railroads reduce employment. Just how many jobs will be affected or how much money the railroads may save won't be known for some time after the general agreement is translated into contract language.

The biggest issues of the long dispute, elimination of some 30,000 firemen's jobs and revision of the number of the rest of train crews, were not at stake in the new negotiations. They are in court.

At the time of the threatened nationwide tie-up last year, Congress stepped in with the first compulsory arbitration law in peacetime history. The result was a ruling permitting elimination of the firemen on diesel freight and yard trains and calling for review of the crew makeup issue on a local basis.

Appeal Against Ruling

The unions have gone before the Supreme Court with an appeal against that ruling. The carriers have agreed not to start cutting off firemen or reviewing train crew size until the high court has ruled.

In herding union and management negotiators successfully through 13 days of emergency White House talks, Johnson stamped his brand indelibly on U.S. labor history and achieved what two former presidents, Congress, the courts and five years of bargaining had failed to accomplish.

"This agreement prevents — we hope for all time — a crippling and disastrous strike in the railroad industry," Johnson

Late Bulletin

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today he would like to confer personally with Republican presidential aspirants so they could chart a positive course for discussing foreign policy problems.

Johnson, at a news conference in the rose garden outside his office, announced that foreign policy intelligence briefings would be offered to seven presidential aspirants — including Democratic Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.

Russia Fears Chinese Plan

Mao Seen Wooing Western European Nations

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Moscow displays fear that Red China has a long-range plan to smash out of its isolation and throw its weight around in Western Europe in competition with both the United States and the Soviet Union.

The plan might seem far fetched now, but evidently the Soviet Communist party is taking an extremely dim view of it, apparently nursing lively suspicions that the Chinese are up to no good.

The Soviets describe the Chinese plan as "the intermediate zone theory." The Soviet Communist party's top theoretical journal, Kommunist, denounces the entire thing as a serious danger to the world Communist movement.

The way the Soviets see it, the Chinese have decided to regard Japan, West Germany, France, Britain and Italy as nations under "the bondage of American imperialism" and therefore are wooing those countries.

The implication is that Peking is offering future prospects of a market of three quarters of a billion people, and inviting these countries to get in on the ground floor.

Peking will remain unimpressed by Moscow's wrath. Early this year, Mao Tse-tung, the Chinese Communist leader, talked with visiting politicians

Truman Lectures Woman Jaywalker

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman lectured a woman jaywalker today and got a smiling apology in return.

Taking his customary morning walk, Truman saw the woman pedestrian crossing the street against a red light.

"Lady, you're going to get killed if you do that," he said.

"Yes, I was forgetting the light, Mr. President," the woman replied, smiling. "I should know better."

PARLAYS MINING CLAIMS

Ned Bragagnolo, 33-year-old real estate man in Timmins, Ont., expects to make a handsome return on a $7,000 investment he made in staking 230 claims around the site where Texas Gulf Sulphur Co. has made a mammoth copper-zinc-silver strike. He has received cash and mining company shares in return for some of his claims, including one deal in which he exchanged 12 of the claims for $73,000.

Hearing Scheduled On Calcutta Area Water District

A public hearing on plans and proposals for the Calcutta area waetr and sanitary sewer district will be held May 25 at 7:30 p.m. at the Courthouse in Lisbon.

The Columbiana County commissioners requested the court last July 26 to establish a regional water and sewer district in the suburban residential area northwest of East Liverpool.

Residents in that area have been working toward a public water and sewer system for several years because the water table level has dropped and some of the water is "bacteriologically unsafe." Lots laid out years ago do not meet present health board requirements.

Last Sept. 5 Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard granted the commissioners' request.

A five-member board of trustees was appointed Nov. 20. Members are David Beatty and Wayne Barnard, five-year terms; John M. Duffy, four-year term; and Emil Dominick and Stewart Snyder, three-year terms.

Recently the federal housing and home finance agency at Washington approved a $8,710 loan to finance preliminary planning for the water and sewer area.

The district also has applications pending for $343,000 in construction funds for its water service program. The funds are sought under the federal accelerated public works program.

It's Up to YOU!

Jim Rhodes, our indefatigable governor, hammered hard on an indisputable fact when he spoke at the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce's "Industries Appreciation Night" dinner here Tuesday.

"What Salem does is up to the people of Salem!"

Sounds simple, this theory, but it isn't always a workable formula if individuals or groups within a community, not necessarily Salem, pull in opposite directions. Fortunately, our community has demonstrated time and again a unity of purpose — a true esprit de corps — among civic, business and industrial leaders and the average citizen in achieving common goals.

NEVERTHELESS, Gov. Rhodes' challenge that a community must "sell" itself when it comes to enticing new industry didn't fall on deaf ears as more than 300 persons listened to Ohio's chief executive. The enthusiastic audience could read the names of 40 existing industries on the placards behind the speaker's rostrum, well aware that Salem, with its diversity of industry, and other attributes, is more fortunate than many other cities, yet cognizant of the fact that a challenge exists daily to keep things as wonderful as they are.

The governor's admonition was that "no man is an island unto himself," that no individual can live a selfish, self-centered life without hurting himself and his fellow man and his town's progress.

IN REALITY, the governor was saying what our Chamber of Commerce has been "preaching" for several years now that every citizen is a salesman for Salem and that if we all continue to accent the positive, as this newspaper has stressed time and again, our city will attract other new industries like the Atlantic & Pacific Supermarket Company's giant refrigerated warehouse; existing factories will continue to expand; employment will continue to gain; new highways will be realized; church and school growth will be even more apparent; municipal corporate boundaries will expand through annexation and our vibrant city will have an economic pulse that will be beneficial to everyone who lives here.

Oh, yes. What was it the governor said? "It's up to YOU!"

Ohio Civil Rights Law

The civil rights debate in general, like the filibustering debate in the U.S. Senate, bumbles along in a state of confusion much of the time.

But occasionally a bright flash of understanding breaks through the gloomy argumentation. For Ohioans, a particularly bright light is the realization that passage of a federal civil rights bill like the one already passed by the House of Representatives and now pending in the Senate would have no effect in their state.

Ohio is one of some 23 states in the Union that already have civil rights laws more stringent than the federal proposal. If a federal law is passed this year, the Ohio law still would be the guiding light for civil rights here because in all states with strong local legislation this would be the arrangement.

IN OTHER WORDS, Ohioans who try to make it appear that a federal law would upset practices long familiar in their state are guilty of falsehood.

Except for the technical sections of the proposed federal law, every detail of that law already has been legislated in Ohio, beginning as far back as 1868, when the last school segregation law was repealed.

The segregation that Negroes object to in this state is due to the fact some neighborhoods are dominated by one race, not because only one race is admitted to the neighborhood school.

Ohio law does not permit tampering with voting rights, discrimination in public places, discrimination in education, or discrimination in employment. Over a period of years everything now being debated bitterly in the Senate, whose key committees are dominated by irreconcilable members from segregationist states, has been enacted by the Ohio Legislature.

THE EFFECT of a federal law would be to affirm as national policy what has been Ohio law for many years.

There would be a fresh wave of interest in both the principle and enforcement of the state's civil rights laws.

But as for the laws, themselves, Ohio already has them.

Real Sport

By Truman Twill

Next to football, I like to reminisce best about track.

What I reminisce about, really, is the good old days when kids went to small schools and had a chance to engage in activities that now are the exclusive delight of outstanding athletes only.

Boys played high school and college basketball in those days because they liked basketball, not because they were extraordinarily tall.

We played football in the high school I attended because we wanted to play football. In today's game of super-behemoths, we wouldn't have been heavy enough to play with the neighborhood midgets.

It was the same way with all sports. Eighty per cent of the thing was the desire to participate. Kids played games to have fun, not to win prizes and go somewhere free. Fact is, we didn't even go to the hospital free.

BUT EVEN though all sports were open to all comers, track was the sport that took care of the weirdest assortment.

Anyone was welcome to try, and almost everyone did try. Every skinny kid dreamed of becoming a cross-country runner and staggering to a fainting finish someday with his best girl watching.

Or if not cross-country, he might hold down a place on the relay team. That was my claim to prowess. I could run fast enough to hold down the second leg. It worked like this.

Our leadoff runner was fantastically fast — one of those twinkle-legged kids who could run a quarter mile in less than 50 seconds without breathing hard.

He jumped into a big lead on the first lap. When he handed me the baton for the second lap, the other second-lap runners hadn't even begun to paw the ground. I took off like a rabbit and ran that way until I reached the far side of the track, where I ran out of gas and ran like a cow.

Even so, I staggered around the quarter still comfortably ahead of the opposition, thanks to Twinkle-Legs. I handed off to another also-ran, like me, who had the advantage of longer legs. He also ran out of gas on the back stretch, and sometimes it was a question whether he was going to make it. But no matter.

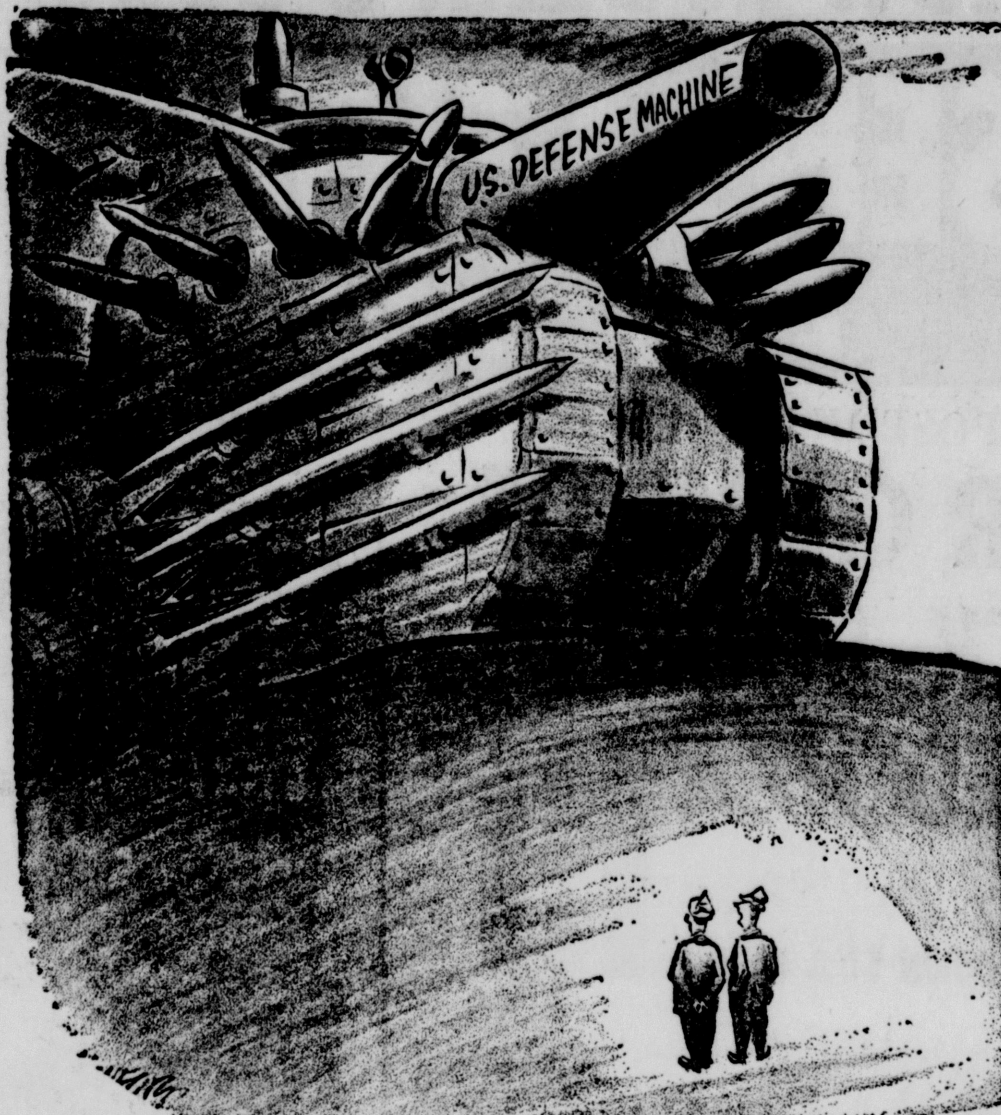

DANNY THOMAS would take care of any deficit incurred in Laps 2 and 3. He could run like a deer — a frightened deer. Thanks to Danny at the end and Twinkle-Legs at the beginning, our relay team set a record that may still be standing, though I doubt it.

The school is so big now they may be using Olympic material on the track team. It's a cinch no one there is playing football at 132 pounds, or basketball at 5-9, or running a quarter mile in more than a minute.

Those were wonderful days. It was a wonderful era. Bear in mind that many men with warm and wonderful memories of their days of athletic prowess wouldn't be allowed in the locker room now.

They would be like the old-time collegians — who wouldn't be allowed to register in 1964 because they would be too dumb.

"You Suppose It Can Be Converted Into a Peaceful Little Runabout?"

A Fight Worth Watching

By VICTOR RIESEL

Victor Riesel

The country has little noted the onslaught of a small band of men against the uncracked and unpenetrated Chicago crime syndicate which has an annual take of more than $3 billion from gambling alone in racket-laden Cook County and down-state Illinois.

This venturesome group of crime fighters numbers only 12 investigators and is led by Charles Siragusa, former deputy commissioner of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics. Just four months ago he agreed to take on the nation's most powerful organized crime syndicate by accepting the post of executive director of the new—and still nationally unpublicized—Illinois Crime Commission.

SIRAGUSA was given only $100,000 by the state to match the coin and influence of the multi-billion dollar mob, but he's launched a counter-offensive which could fire up a reform movement that may yet purge this state.

I asked him where he and his probbers will hit after the open hearings on gambling the guts of syndicated crime. From it flow the bankrolls which take over legitimate businesses and local unions.

One of the "tremendous" Chicago rackets Siragusa wants to expose, he said, is the "arson for profit" operation.

"The only things the mobs can't muscle in," Siragusa asserted, "are customers into their night spots and restaurants. When business slackens off in these places, they burn them down. This fire insurance swindle is enormous. It just doesn't exist in other cities on the scale on which it exists here."

That's not the only insurance racket in the Chicago and downstate area, Siragusa disclosed. He then discussed the "fake hi-jack" operation.

THE MOB sets up legitimate business fronts which require the use of big vans for carting merchandise or supplies. The trucks are over-insured. Then they are unleashed to run through abandoned streets during the early morning hours. The syndicate technique is to transfer the cargo at some lonely spot and then to have their business "executives" report their trucks hi-jacked.

The mob not only can collect the insurance but can sell off the allegedly stolen shipments and make hundreds of thousands of dollars on the double racket. Siragusa also reported that the Chicago "juice" racket is gargantuan compared to loan sharking in other communities. He insists that this is hitting hundreds of small businessmen as well as worker here. Anyone going for "juice" borrows, say $1,000, and promises to pay it back in a lump sum.

THE BORROWER agrees to pay a certain amount a week until he can deliver the total sum. The weekly payments, however, do not reduce his indebtedness. The loan is never "amortized." You can pay $100 weekly for months, but the loan is not paid off until you return the $1,000 in full and at one time.

Siragusa believes these investigations will lead him to an eventual probe of labor racketeering in this city where the mobs now reach into at least 10 unions. At least one labor official is known to be a member of the high command which governs Chicago's crime combine.

Siragusa knows how tough his assignment is. Federal agents as well as Police Commissioner O. W. Wilson's special squads have been trying for years to plant an undercover man in the syndicate's hierarchy, but have failed despite considerable expenditure of money and coordinated effort.

THE ILLINOIS Crime Commission, which was created by the State Legislature, will operate throughout the entire state as well as in Chicago. No Illinois crime fighting group has ever moved so ambitiously.

The Chicago crime cartel leaders had so much skill and influence that they have been able to turn their empire over peacefully to younger successors. Thus, Tony Accardo is moving slowly into the background as Sam Giancana takes over. Federal agents have estimated Giancana's income to be as high as $12 million a year.

No other crime syndicate has interests in so many diversified commercial and industrial areas—or inside labor—as the Chicago mobsters have. These range from finance to brewing and include meat sales, real estate, insurance, scavenger operations, building and construction, and even an awning firm.

This is a mighty empire for a little band to tackle, I remarked to Siragusa.

"The . . . appropriation . . . was cut from $200,000 to half that amount," he retorted. "I knew this when I came aboard and the difficulties it would impose operationally and otherwise. Consequently, I have no complaints in that quarter. However, I'm counting on sufficient success to preclude being appropriated out of existence — rather I anticipate getting a much larger budget come July 1965."

This will be a fight worth watching.

Not What the Farmer Wants

This is a letter to our city friends — especially those who think that all the farmer is interested in is government handouts. We want you to be aware of at least one phase of our government program.

For many years farmers of Ohio, in their wheat referendums and in groups such as our Farm Bureau Councils, have been clearly asking for a return to the laws of supply and demand, away from artificial government controls. Of course we realize that the situation has become so involved that it cannot be swept away overnight, but we would like to think that we are heading out, and not further in.

Last fall farmers thought they had removed one set of controls. The wheat growers of the nation were given the right to vote. Joyously farmers flocked to the polls and voted wheat controls OUT. They would gladly take their chances with freedom. Farmers planted wheat with the promise that freedom would be given a trial for at least one year. Surveys show that wheat is planted with freedom. After all, there was no artificial price incentive. But here and there individual farmers did take advantage of the opportunity to bring their wheat planting program into line with a farming operation that had been changed since old allotments had been set up.

Now we are shocked to find that last week Congress and the President had different ideas. At midnight April 8 in a one-hour, no-debate move, a new wheat bill was slipped through. The farmers who believed that they were promised last fall are faced with the alternatives of somehow eliminating excess wheat growing in the ground, or of being penalized.

We suspect that Representatives Hays, Kirwin, Sechrist and Vanek, the only Ohio Representatives who voted for this bill, will have some political excuse for their vote, but we commend all other Ohio representatives who truly represented us and voted against the bill.

City friends, if you are distressed by the monumental so-called farm program that your tax is supporting, you must realize that it is up to you to express yourselves loudly and clearly. Our representatives talk nicely to us, but when they come to vote, their eye is on the city. They know well that farmers are numerically few. It is your vote that counts. So get in there and find out what is going on. Don't be misled by claims that "it's what the farmer wants!"

The Columbiana County Cultivators Farm Bureau Council.

'Forgive, Forget'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

There seems to be a new motto that describes the trend in American foreign policy — forgive and forget.

The new mood is reflected in developments in Cuba. It has been revealed, for instance, that the Soviet Union is planning to turn over the operation of its anti-aircraft missiles in Cuba to the Castro government on May 1, and will withdraw about 3,000 of the 4,000 Soviet troops now in Cuba. It isn't clear yet whether Moscow will retain a veto over the firing of the missiles or whether the power of decision will be left with the Russian "technicians" who are to remain on the island.

Not a single public protest, however, has been made by the United States government to the Soviet government over the continued presence in Cuba of Soviet technicians and missiles. The last official word on this subject, so far as the public is concerned, was spoken in October 1962, at the time of the missile crisis.

Despite efforts then to bring about an immediate withdrawal of all Soviet forces and missiles, the United States has had to be content with a long-drawn-out maneuver.

THE SOVIETS still maintain their original position. They insist on giving armed assistance to a government in this hemisphere and a military base has been established by a European power in defiance of the Monroe Doctrine and of a recent resolution by Congress.

The tendency is to assume that nothing serious will develop and that, even if the Castro government fires any of its anti-aircraft missiles and damages or down any of the U2s or other planes which are engaged in occasional air inspection of Cuba, the United States will not hesitate to take retaliatory action.

The controversy is deliberately confined to the United States and Cuba. Apparently the crime committed by the Soviet regime in invading the Western Hemisphere and supplying arms and weapons and technicians to a country only 90 miles away from the United States is to be forgiven or forgotten. Certainly there is a hesitancy on the part of the government here even to mention it in any public way.

There is, moreover, a desire in Washington to "play ball," if possible, with the Soviet regime in the hope that some propaganda advantage can be obtained in the international debate over reduction of armament.

THUS, WHILE much emphasis is placed on the agreement just made to reduce the production of uranium, this really has no military significance. It's designed entirely to produce a psychological impression that the chances of peace are being constantly improved. The truth is that both sides have plenty of nuclear strength to devastate each other's territory.

Such mutual agreements as the ban on nuclear testing in certain categories and now the curtailment of uranium production — both agreements without provisions for inspection — are, of course, part of the Soviet effort to give the impression that it has no hostile purpose toward the West.

This is designed to invite further trade with the West and perhaps even to obtain financial help from the United States by way of long-term credits.

The objective of Moscow is to produce the right atmosphere for commercial interchanges in order to help overcome some of the Communist economic difficulties.

Even while there is an outward appearance of friendliness and peacefulness on the part of the Moscow government, the United States government is constantly being informed of the infiltration by Soviet agents in different countries in this hemisphere as well as in Africa. The Soviet plan for taking over more and more governments, just as happened in the case of Castro, has not been modified.

MEANWHILE, an effort is being made here to put some courage into the Organization of American States. A few of the governments in Latin America which have maintained diplomatic relations with the Castro government are beginning to talk of breaking off. But there is no sign yet that any government, including the United States, is willing to sever diplomatic relations with the Soviet government — which, of course, is at the root of all the trouble.

For the next few months not only the United States but some of its European allies are evidently going to try to "play ball" with Nikita Khrushchev and elicit from him periodically further expressions of good will and peaceful intentions. Yet not a word is being said about the record of bad faith the Soviet government has made in the last few years throughout the world. It has infiltrated country after country. It even reached the point of supplying arms to the Cuban government and setting up missiles in close proximity to the United States.

There seems to be inside government circles a disposition to avoid any controversy with the Soviet government about this and to regard the past as past. There is uneasiness among some members of Congress over such a policy of "forgive and forget."

Today In History

Today is Thursday, April 23, the 114th day of 1964. There are 252 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1905, American stage star Joe Jefferson, died. Jefferson was known for his performance in "Our American Cousin" — the play President Lincoln saw the night he was assassinated, although Jefferson long before had quit the part.

On this date In 1564, William Shakespeare was born.

In 1838, the first regular Atlantic service was inaugurated when the Sirius arrived in New York from England after a voyage of 17 days.

In 1883, Queen Victoria established the Order of the Royal Red Cross.

In 1896, the first screen-projected motion pictures were shown to the public in New York City.

In 1944, Russian forces besieged German-occupied Sevastopol.

Ten years ago — The United States made a loan of $100 million to the European Coal and Steel Community to aid its production program and encourage European unity.

Five years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower went to Walter Reed Hospital to give resigned Secretary of State John Foster Dulles a commission as Special consultant to the president.

One year ago — President John F. Kennedy assured the West Germans the United States would maintain forces in Europe so long as their presence was desired and required.

So They Say

Now we're broke. If it wasn't for a sustaining program we'd be down to a mere skeleton force. We face a tremendously difficult task in raising the money fast and getting it out into the field.

—Fred C. Scribner Jr., general counsel for the GOP National Committee.

Matter of Fact

Harris tweed is a distinctive cloth originally handspun, warped, woven and finished by the inhabitants of the island of Lewis and Harris and other islands of the Outer Hebrides off the Scottish coast, from the wool of native sheep. Because of the steady increase in demand for Harris tweed, most of it is made from yarn which has been machine-spun. Cloths spun and woven on the island have a distinctively peaty odor.

DOWN on the FARM

Spittlebugs Due Back

The annual spring hatch of spittlebugs will soon begin. Producers can control the spittlebug by applying the proper amount of insecticide at the proper time, according to Donald K. Myers, Columbiana County extension agent in agriculture.

Spittlebugs emerge in spring as small orange bugs about the size of a pin head. Experiments at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster indicate that where they are prevalent, they can reduce hay and pasture yield from one-fourth to one-half.

Surveys last fall for the adult spittlebug indicate the population of the spittlebug this spring should be below average. However, Myers says producers will want to keep close watch of their meadows as the amount of infestation can vary from area to area.

There are only two chemicals recommended for control of the spittlebug, these being lindane and methoxychlor. Producers should apply one of these chemicals about a week after spittlebugs first hatch, usually when the crop is approximately six inches high.

Producers may use lindane at the rate of one pint of 20 per cent emulsion concentrate to the acre.

If methoxychlor is used, it should be applied at a rate of two quarts of 25 per cent emulsion concentrate to the acre.

Agricultural Hall of Fame

Ways of raising funds for the Agricultural Hall of Fame and National Center near Kansas City, Mo., were discussed recently in Cuyahoga Falls. The Center, now under construction, will focus national attention on the role of agriculture in America's past, present and future, and will serve as a year-round show place for farming and related industry, according to Harry Bryson, executive vice president of the Agricultural Hall of Fame.

Showing colored slides, he told the group about the Center's background and explained the nature of it.

Ohio's quota is $150,000 with The Mahoning County share being $1,620. A. A. Less of Greenford (Ruritani), Harry Watkins of North Benton (Grange), Orville Slagle of Boardman (County Extension Advisory Committee), and William Phillips, Mahoning County Extension Agent, attended this meeting to secure information regarding this project.

They will report at a meeting later in April when other local representatives will consider Mahoning County's participation in this fund-raising campaign.

Crossbred Beef Cattle

Will beef cattle raisers eventually switch from purebreds to crossbreds?

Comparisons at experiment stations show that cattle crosses out-perform purebreds in the same way crossbred pigs out-perform their purebred ancestors, Farm Journal magazine reports.

Purebred cattle crosses produce true hybrid vigor — resulting in heavier, stronger calves at weaning, faster gains and higher grades.

S. L. Crochet, who heads cattle operations for the big USSC Ranch in Florida, makes three-way crosses with great success. He first crosses a European breed of bull — either Angus, Hereford or Charolais — on Brahman cows, then breeds these half-and-halves back to a European bull of a different cross.

Crochet says that three-breed hybrid calves will wean 22 per cent to 34 per cent heavier than these advantages over purebreds:

Stronger calves — 7 per cent more alive 10 days after birth, six per cent more alive after weaning.

Heavier at weaning — 97 crossbreds outweighed 82 straightbreds by an average 22 pounds at 200 days the first year; by 17 pounds the second year.

Faster gains in feedlot — crossbred steers outweighed straightbreds by 43 pounds when marketed.

straightbreds, compared with an average 18 per cent increase in weight for two-breed crosses.

Two-year tests at the Ft. Robinson, Neb., Beef Research Station shows that Angus, Short-horn and Hereford crosses have

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE
DEAR HELOISE: I made my newspaper logs by opening up the complete sheet of newspaper and laying it on the floor. I then fold it in the same manner as you do a diaper, the old triangle way—and start at the folded edge and roll them up. All I do then is tie them into a knot!

MRS. B. E. NEVALSKY.
DEAR FOLKS: Many suggestions have come in for using newspapers for fire logs. This is an entirely new thought!

I tried it. It's much easier and I find that by ripping the folded side of the newspaper with a butcher knife and then folding it and rolling... there are no wrinkles in the papers and they are easier to tie.

Did you know that these logs can be used in fireplaces, barbecue pits or any such place? The newspaper logs are also excellent to mix with, and among, briquettes and charcoal when trying to start a charcoal fire for your grill. Don't waste your newspapers. Utilize everything you can. Any way you can save, helps with your budget.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Health Questions And Answers

Q—Please explain the importance of the rheumatoid factor in the diagnosis of rheumatoid arthritis. Do all people with this disease have a positive test?

A— Blood tests for the rheumatoid factor are positive in about 75 per cent of adults who have true rheumatoid arthritis. The test does not become positive until the victim has had the disease for six months or more.

The more severe the disease—especially with complications in the blood vessels, spleen and nervous system—the more strongly positive the test. If the test remains positive for a period of months, the disease is likely to grow progressively worse. It is rarely positive in children who have this disease.

Q—I'm a 26-year-old man. I was to be married but my blood test came back positive for syphilis. Does this mean I can never get married?

A— You should not consider marriage until you have had sufficient treatment so that your doctor can assure you that you are cured. Otherwise, you could pass this infection on to your wife, she could pass it on to your children.

Q—My husband has polycythemia. What is it? Is it a form of cancer? Can a person with this disease be cured?

A— He has a red cell count in his blood that is much higher than normal. This is not a form of cancer. The cause in many cases is unknown. It may, however, be associated with emphysema, silicosis and other diseases. No drug should be given until a careful examination is made to determine the underlying cause. If the cause is not found and removed, the disease cannot be cured but it can be controlled.

The red cell count can be lowered by bleeding. It is sometimes necessary to remove a pint of blood once or twice a week at first. Some doctors prefer to inject radio-active phosphorus into the vein. This works more slowly than the bleeding. If one treatment is not enough as determined by subsequent blood cell counts, it is repeated in about 12 weeks.

Q—My 8-year-old frequently complains of momentarily smelling strange smells. What could cause this?

A— This may be a phenomenon of memory. Just as sight and sounds may flash across our minds, so also may certain smells, both pleasant and unpleasant.

On the other hand, some persons are aware of strange smells at the onset of an attack of epilepsy. In a very mild form of epilepsy, the smell may be the only evidence of the attack. If your doctor thinks there is a possibility of epilepsy, he might suggest an electroencephalogram which should remove any guesswork.

Q—My 5-year-old has allergies. He has not been vaccinated against smallpox and our doctor says he must not be vaccinated because he is allergic to something in the vaccine. What will happen when he starts school?

A— Since most schools require vaccination against smallpox, he should be vaccinated. But he should take one of the antihistaminic drugs at the time of the vaccination and for a few days thereafter. If your doctor will not agree with this, he may arrange to have your son excused from this requirement but sooner or later, especially if he enters military service, he will have to be vaccinated. Furthermore, if he ever leaves the country, he will not be able to re-enter without evidence of a smallpox vaccination performed within the preceding three

Q—Is Vitamin B-12 good for allergic rhinitis?

A— Vitamin B-12 is of value in the treatment of pernicious anemia and it is necessary for the growth of children. It has been used in the treatment of many diseases, but, excepting anemia, without apparent benefit.

Leetonia Vocational Dinner Program Held

LEETONIA — About 7 of every 10 students in the apprentice program at Canton Timken Roller Bearing Co. remain with the company after their training is complete, Henry Ross, the company's training supervisor, told a group here Wednesday night.

Ross spoke at Orchard Hill School at the annual employer-employee banquet, the climax of a year of studying and work by a group of Leetonia High School students in the Diversified Cooperative Training and Cooperative Office Education programs.

pose of this program was to smooth out the "peaks and valleys" encountered in marketing products of the recreation industry.

Some of the new products that have been developed are mobile trailers for the utility industry, transducers and pad mount houses for the surface mounting of electrical distribution transformers and switch gear cabinets as used by utility power companies.

Further developments are under way to increase "Sterling's share of the utility market."

Parker said that the product diversification has enabled the company to increase the number of employees by 25 per cent and provide a more even work schedule.

Sterling-Salem Corp. is now working on a $273,041 contract for the Federal Aviation Agency and has been commended for the quality workmanship performed on this contract.

Only about eight per cent of the 139 pavilions were not quite ready for the "opener," and a few did not open.

As night fell, lighted pavilions and colored fountains glowed through the fog; the pool of industry erupted with fireworks, and powerful searchlights raked the sky.

It was gala and it was fun, but nature didn't cooperate at all.

Tanganyika, Zanzibar To Form New Nation

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP) — The presidents of Tanganyika and the neighboring island of Zanzibar have agreed to merge their countries to form a new nation, the government of Tanganyika announced today.

Diplomatic sources in London said they thought the merger would diminish Communist influence in East Africa. But they added it could open the door to more Red penetration via Zanzibar.

Rail

Negotiators for the five unions whose members run the trains and spokesmen for nearly 200 railroads expressed general satisfaction at the outcome.

The agreement ended the threat of a scheduled strike at one minute after midnight Friday night. Johnson had estimated a strike would have idled 7 million American workers, endangered the health conditions and virtually paralyzed the economy.

Johnson gave due credit to the five federal negotiators, headed by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, who emerged red-eyed and exhausted from day and night efforts at untangling one of the longest and most complicated labor quarrels in the annals of collective bargaining.

Opening day attendance was 92,646, about a third of what had been expected. Officials blamed the rain and demonstrations.

Chanting "freedom, freedom" demonstrators nearly drowned out one of President Johnson's two speeches, and they sat down through the national anthem.

They forced temporary closing of at least two of the modernistic commercial pavilions.

A much-heralded auto "stall-in" to create a huge traffic jam around the fair site in Queens did not develop. Traffic was only 25 per cent of normal and moved better than usual, said Traffic Commissioner Henry Barnes.

Among those arrested was James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, which planned the demonstrations inside the fairgrounds and suspended its Brooklyn chapter for planning the "stall-in."

Farmer said the demonstrations were intended to point up the contrast "between the glitter and the fantasy of the World's Fair and the real world of discrimination."

Also arrested was Bayard Rustin, a leader of last summer's civil rights march on Washington.

Demonstrators said they were protesting what they called discriminatory hiring practices of some companies sponsoring exhibits, and segregation and discrimination both South and North, especially in schools and housing.

There was no charge that the fair itself was guilty of discrimination.

from France. He's reliably reported to have broached the idea of a "third world," even to suggesting that some central organization be set up for a formal beginning.

Nothing has come of that, and nothing may come of it for a long time. But Mao's idea appears to be to start modestly, perhaps with Red China and France as the nucleus of such an organization.

Japan, West Germany and Italy would be approached later and perhaps later on even the British, if Britain should lose what Mao regards as her subservience to Washington. Someday, also, Latin-American nations and others might be invited.

So the Soviet Communists are accusing the Chinese of developing the notion that governmental leaders of France, West Germany, Japan and possibly even Britain should be looked upon by Communists as potential allies against the United States. Perhaps, by implication, this means allies against Khrushchev's supporters, whom Peking calls renegades from communism.

Brown Asked To Explain Scope of Job

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democratic legislative leaders have called on Lt. Gov. John W. Brown to clarify "whether any conflict of interest exists between his state duties and his part-time post with a public relations firm."

State Sen. Frank W. King of Toledo and Rep. A. G. Lancione of Bellaire, minority leaders, say they want Brown to explain fully the scope of his work with Atkinson Briscoe Inc. of Columbus.

King and Lancione demanded a complete investigation "then in the same press released Wednesday night, King said, I am merely asking that he explain to the people."

Brown said recently that he has been on retainer with Atkinson & Briscoe since last Jan. 1 and idea man "for the firm since 1958."

The Republican lieutenant governor didn't say how much he was being paid, and Lancione said this information should be made public.

Atkinson & Briscoe currently is handling promotion and publicity for the proposed $500 million highway bond issue endorsed by Gov. James A. Rhodes administration. It was hired by a civic group supporting the issue, which will be decided in the May 5 primary.

Brown has said that any efforts he has made on behalf of the bond issue have been as lieutenant governor, not as part of his duties with the publicity firm.

Rhodes has noted that with only part-time state duties, Brown can take any outside employment he sees fit.

News of the World in Pictures

HERD ABOUT THIS?

ORDINARILY, the customers who come into the barber shop of Bob Shepard of Elkhorn, Wis., don't attract any attention, but one recent patron revived the saying about "Let's go over and watch haircuts." This customer was a nine-month-old elephant wearing diapers. Denice (the elephant) will be remembered by the town.

Owner Mrs. Murray Hill selects the barber shop and a boy peeks out at them.

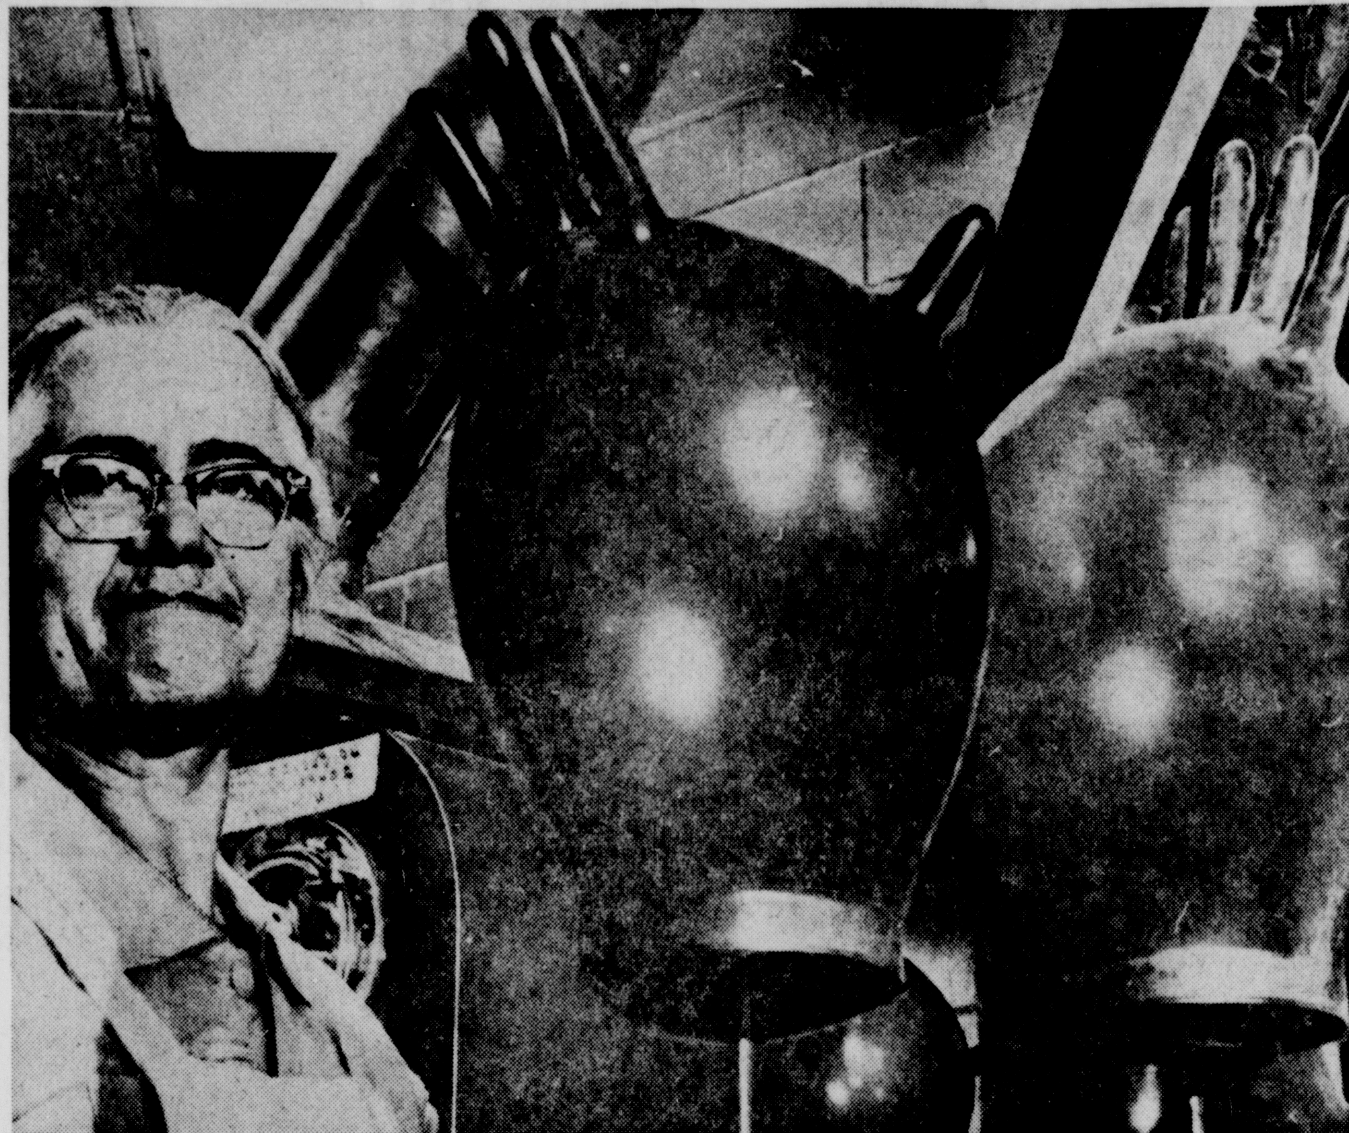

Mike Shepard and Greg Koener will have something to tell the other kids.

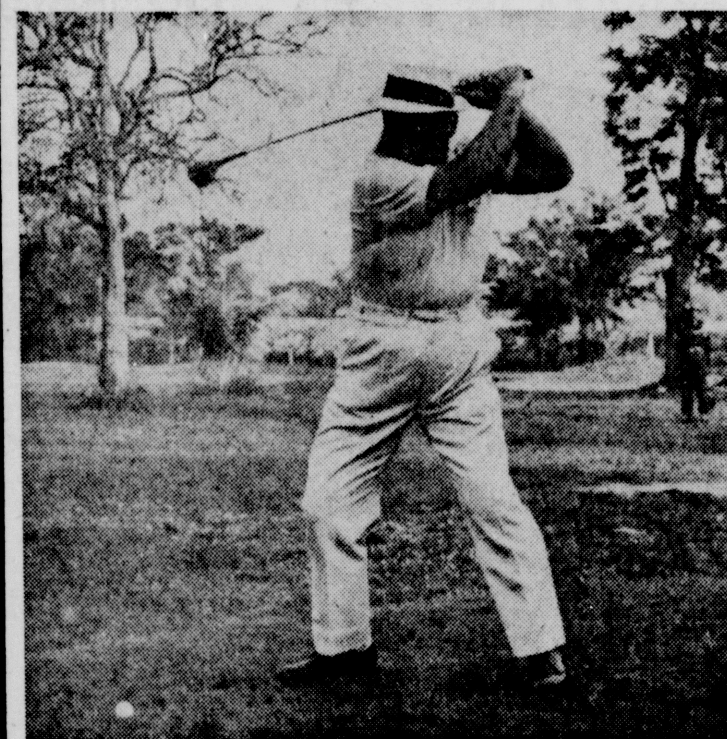

Denice cried and kicked as any youngster might, but got a sucker at finish.

NO SIGN of friendship is this one carried by a Greek Cypriot student demonstrating in streets of Nicosia.

FOR HEALING HANDS—Rubber gloves for surgeons look like two balloon-shaped hands as Carolyn Schuler of the University of Michigan Hospital tests durability.

ROYAL-TEE—Dressed in his royal attire of an admiral, his majesty Yang de-Pertuan Agong attended a ceremony (top) in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, and then, like many a business man at the end of the day, hurried to golf course (bottom).

MALE POUCH—Taking a curious look at his surroundings, a baby kangaroo pokes his head out of his mother's pouch at Canada's Assiniboine Park zoo in Winnipeg.

PLAY ACTING?—No, actor Alec Guinness seems to be working out a problem during his New York play.

"... THEN TURN LEFT ..."—No one who uses interchange for Popular Street Bridge in East St. Louis, Mo., had better stop to ask directions along the way. This artist's rendering outlines proposed network of elevated roads.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm the manager of a luxury apartment building in a large metropolitan city. For years I have read your column for kicks—never dreaming I would be writing one day for serious advice.

A prominent, well-to-do widow who lives in the building is driving the maintenance men buggy. Since Jan. 1 she has put in 62 service requests. Her requests involve everything from the replacement of a light bulb (which she says she can't reach) to a leaky faucet or a loose doornob.

When the men get up there they can't get out. She has the table set for two and insists they sit down and have a cup of coffee and a piece of her delicious apple strudel.

Yesterday the electrician told me he is positive the woman disconnects and unscrews things so she'll have an excuse to call somebody up to her apartment.

Will you please tell me what to do about this tenant? She has three years to go on her lease.

—EXASPERATION PLUS.

Dear Ex: The poor dame is lonely. But you can't continue to send workmen up there just to keep her company.

Tell the woman she is entitled to a specified number of service calls per week and that after she has used her quota she'll have to hire outside people.

Demoke Lungs

Dear Ann: I was touched by the letter signed "His Kids." THE R SIGNED "His Kids." Those teenagers were worried about their father because he smoked heavily. His battle cry was, "I've been smoking this way for 25 years. The damage is done and quitting now won't do any good."

The same edition of our newspaper carried a truly encouraging story. The headline read, "Quit Smoking and Lungs Will Be 'Pure' Again." The article reported on a meeting of the Kent County (Mich.) unit of the American Cancer Society and Kent County Medical Society.

A chest surgeon said, "Those dirty, black, tar-filled lungs may be restored to a new state of pink purity in from three weeks to three years after the smoker quits, depending on how long and how much he smoked."

This is the most heartening news I have read on the subject yet. I hope you will print it and offer hope and encouragement to all those who refuse to give up smoking because they believe it's too late for them. Thank you. — MRS. C. J.

Dear Mrs. G. J.: Approximately 50 million pairs of eyes will see those words because you were thoughtful enough to send them on. Thank you.

Great White Way

Dear Ann: Our daughter is to be married this spring. Claude is a very nice fellow but his taste is not good.

Becky always has had her heart set on pastel appliances for the kitchen. Last night we were discussing what they would have in their new little home and Becky mentioned a pink refrigerator. Claude said, "A refrigerator ought to be white."

Becky asked him why and he said, "There is no reason, except that white is the natural color for a refrigerator."

They got into an argument and Becky couldn't budge him.

My husband and I have decided to buy them a pink refrigerator as a gift before Claude has a chance to buy a white one. My sister-in-law says this is butting in. Since when is wanting your child to be happy "butting in"? Are we right? —LOVING MOTHER.

Dear Loving: If you think a pink refrigerator is going to bring Becky happiness when you know Claude wants a white one, think again.

Your sister-in-law is right. If this isn't butting in, find me a better phrase and I'll buy it. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Sheppard Charges Denied by Saxbe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Sam Sheppard's latest legal move for freedom was met Wednesday by the attorney general of Ohio with a denial of the convicted slayer's claims that he had been deprived of constitutional rights. The response, point by point to nine charges, came in a brief filed by Atty. Gen. William Saxbe's office in Dayton. Federal Judge Carl A. Weinman set May 6 in Dayton as the day to determine whether arguments will be heard on the habeas corpus case. Sheppard, convicted in 1954 of slaying his wife, Marilyn, at their Bay Village home is serving a life term for second-degree murder in Ohio Penitentiary. He will be eligible for parole late this year or next. His current legal move asks for his freedom now. Sheppard's attorneys listed nine instances in which they say the former osteopath was deprived of constitutional rights before and during his trial.

WORD FOR GARDENERS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Agricultural Director John M. Stackhouse has this word for home gardeners: "Would-be purchasers should beware of extensive storage growth on roses, shriveled trees and shrubs, and shattered needle on evergreens." Stackhouse said his department inspects nursery stock offered for sale but can't check it all during the rush season. He noted that not all of those selling rose bushes and other stock "have the training and experience to keep them in good condition." Sonny Liston and Jess Willard were the only heavyweight champions to lose their world titles by sitting on their stools.

Dodgers Lose 7th Straight, Koufax Injures Arm

McCovey Belts 3 Home Runs

Houston Shuts Out Cincy Squad 2-0

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

While the Los Angeles Dodgers suffered from a growing headache in St. Louis today, Sandy Koufax was 2,200 miles away—nursing his hot dog arm. The Dodgers' ace left-hander was forced out of the game with the Cardinals Wednesday night after the first inning with an elbow inflammation and a slight muscle tear in his left forearm. He returned to Los Angeles for an examination.

Before he left the game, Koufax unleashed a rare wild pitch that eventually led to Charley James' three-run homer and a 7-6 victory for the Cardinals. It was the seventh straight defeat for the Dodgers, who have won just one game.

Dr. I. C. Middleman, St. Louis team physician, estimated Koufax would miss at least one or two pitching turns. He normally pitches every four days.

Elsewhere in the National League Wednesday night, Houston blanked Cincinnati 2-0, and San Francisco stopped Milwaukee 8-6. Rain halted Pittsburgh at Philadelphia and Chicago at New York.

Koufax, whose 25 victories last season earned him the league's most valuable player award, got into trouble when Bill White swung and missed for the third strike. The ball got by catcher John Roseboro, though, and White reached first. Koufax then walked Ken Boyer and gave up the home run pitch to James.

Carl Warwick and White later hit home runs, nullifying homers by the Dodgers' Frank Howard and Willie Davis. Curt Simmons won his second game for the Cardinals but needed help from Roger Craig.

Willie McCovey belted home runs in his first three times at bat for the Giants. He had a puny .080 batting average going into the game. His performance overshadowed the two home runs hit by the Braves' Joe Torre.

Willie Mays continued his torrid hitting pace, getting a single and a double.

Indians At Chicago Tonight

Tribe Rained Out; Conley Is Signed

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Rain washed out the final game of a two-game series between the Cleveland Indians and Kansas City Athletics Wednesday night with the Indians batting in the second inning and the score tied, 1-1.

Doc Edwards singled Wayne Causey home from second to give the Athletics a run in the first inning and Al Smith homered for Cleveland with one out in the second.

The Indians open a four-game series against the Los Angeles Angels in Los Angeles tonight with Dick Donovan slated to pitch for the Tribe and Ken Mc-Bride scheduled as the Angels' starter. Both are veteran right-handers.

Prior to Wednesday night's game, general manager Gabe Paul announced the Indians had signed pitcher Gene Conley, a 6-foot-8 right-hander, for their Burlington, N.C. farm club.

Conley, who plays professional basketball during the winter, has been in the major leagues since 1952 and was released by the Boston Red Sox. He joined the Cleveland organization as a free agent and will report to the Burlington club in the Class A Carolina League next Monday.

Florida Mother Wins Largest Payoff In U.S. Track History

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A mother of four youngsters in bed with chickenpox went to the track Wednesday for a breather, bet $2 on a hunch twin double and walked off with $84,692.20, largest payoff in U.S. racing history.

Mrs. Helen McGrady of West Hollywood, Fla., clutched a Danish good luck troll doll in one hand, held her husband's arm with the other and watched Gulfstream Park officials count out stacks of $100 bills.

"We got it all! We got it all," she said over and over.

Ford Blanks Chisox 3-0 For 200th Win Of Career

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Measured by Whitey Ford's meticulous standards, the 200th victory of his major league career was a complete success—strictly a one-sweat-shirt job.

Ford, the ace left-hander of the New York Yankees who doubles as the pitching coach for the American League champions, put himself down for an

A grade after winning No. 200 Wednesday night by blanking the Chicago White Sox 3-0 on six hits.

"I only went through one sweat shirt," said Ford, laughing. "I'm giving myself an excellent report for the game."

Ford's chart, when completed, will show he kept the White Sox off balance, allowing only one extra base hit and striking out two while issuing only one walk.

The record book, when revised, will show Ford the 61st pitcher in major league history to reach the 200-victory plateau.

The long, bright future also may be approaching for the Yankees, who marked their second victory in six games with still another achievement. In the fifth inning, Clete Boyer hit a homer—the first by a Yankee this season.

The Minnesota Twins hit three homers—by Tony Oliva, Rich Rollins and Don Mincher—but scored the winning run on a passed ball in a 7-6 triumph over Washington. In the only other AL game played, the Los Angeles Angels struck for two runs in the ninth and a 3-2 victory over Detroit.

Two games were postponed by rain—Boston at Baltimore and Cleveland at Kansas City.

Ford, who was the AL's winningest pitcher last year with a 24-7 record, was locked in a duel with White Sox starter Gary Peters until Boyer hit his bases-empty homer in the fifth.

Rejoins Bruce As Backfield Mentor

Morton Accepts Grid Post At Massillon

Blaine Morton, former Salem High football coach, has been appointed to the offensive backfield coaching post at Massillon Washington High School.

By accepting the assignment, Morton will be rejoining Earl Bruce, who was named to the Tigers' head coaching spot in March.

Morton served under Bruce in Salem six years ago, then was elevated to the Quakers' head coaching job in 1961, when Bruce moved to Sandusky to start a successful reign.

"I am elated over the new assignment," said Morton. "It is a step up and a real challenge for me to coach at a school with a reputation like Massillon has throughout the state and nation."

Perennially, Massillon has strong teams and has won numerous state and national titles.

MORTON POINTED out that his salary would be more than $7,000, and that he would be teaching either geography or problems of democracy.

"I will also be given one of the spring coaching assignments to begin in 1965," Morton said.

He is a graduate of Allegheny High School in Cumberland, Md., and Fairmont State Teacher College. He has done graduate work at West Virginia University.

Now an assistant grid coach and teacher at East Liverpool, Morton plans to move to Massillon from Salem as soon as school is out in June.

The Massillon Board of Education approved the appointment of Morton, along with two of Bruce's Sandusky assistants, John Behling and Tony Munafio, at a special meeting.

Browns 1964 Grid Schedule Lists Top Squads In NFL

CLEVELAND — A Sept. 20th opener against the dangerous St. Louis Cardinals, an encore of last year's successful Saturday night game against the Pittsburgh Steelers on Oct. 10, the traditionally crucial battle with the defending Eastern Division champion New York Giants Oct. 25 and a Western Division invasion by the Detroit Lions Nov. 15 highlight the Cleveland Browns' 1964 schedule announced today.

Completing the seven-game, regular season lineup at Cleveland Stadium are the Dallas Cowboys on Oct. 4; the Washington Redskins, Nov. 8, and the Philadelphia Eagles, Nov. 29.

The latter three clubs all appear to have added both strength and glamour through the recent trading of "name" players.

And with the third annual pre-season doubleheader Sept. 5 matching the Browns vs. Green Bay and New York vs. Detroit, the entire '64 home sked should be most exciting ever for the Browns.

Cleveland will officially kick off its second campaign under Head Coach Blanton Collier on Sept. 13 in Washington and finish in New York on Dec. 12, Saturday afternoon. The Packers will be the Western Division road opponent, Nov. 22 in Milwaukee.

Several Records May Fall During Event

Mount Union Favored In OC Track Relays Set Saturday

DELAWARE — Individual track standouts, including several Olympic hopefuls, combine efforts with their less-renowned teammates to determine the third annual Ohio Conference Relays champion at Ohio Wesleyan Saturday.

Emphasis is focused on the aggregate efforts of the three- and four-man teams competing in each of the 13 events, which includes the hop, step and jump for the first time.

A close battle is forecast for the team title with defending titlist and current indoor champion Mt. Union assuming the favorite's role.

150 Golfers Entered In Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—More than 150 golfers, including many of the game's top names, strike out over the Oak Hills Country Club course today after a share of the 340,000 up for grabs in the 37th annual Texas Open.

So far, the tournament has failed to yield a favorite.

The rolling 6,715-yard par 70 layout offers sub-par rounds for consistent shooters, but has its trouble spots. A host of the pros proved during practice rounds and the pro-amateur tournament Wednesday they could whip the course.

Billy Maxwell, who hasn't won a tournament since the 1962 Dallas Open, caught the eyes of many Wednesday with a four-under-par 66 that was tops in the pro-amateur.

However, nine others turned in below par rounds, including defending champion Phil Rodgers, who sizzled over the same course last year 16 strokes better than par.

Perhaps one reason most feel the tournament, which ends Sunday, is anybody's title is the fact that several of the biggest names have skipped it.

Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Julius Boros are absent. Mike Souchak, who won the Houston Classic Sunday, also did not enter.

THE REMAINING away games are:

Sept. 27 at Philadelphia; Oct. 18 at Dallas, Nov. 1 at Pittsburgh; Dec. 6 at St. Louis.

In the St. Louis opener here, the Browns will be facing a team that became a legitimate title contender last year. The Cards, with their young stars giving promise of continued improvement, should be even tougher in '64.

Charley Johnson has developed rapidly into one of the National Football League's better quarterbacks. He has the NFL's leading receiver in Bobby Joe Conrad and other top targets in Sonny Randle and Taz Anderson.

On the ground, John David Crow, healthy again after knee surgery, will add muscle to an attack sparked by Bill Triplett and Joe Childress.

The overwhelming fan acceptance of last year's Pittsburgh night game has made this a permanent fixture in the Browns' home scheduling.

AN ALL-TIME Browns' record crown of 84,684 jammed the Stadium to the bursting point and saw one of the great pro football thrill shows of recent years as Cleveland outscored the Steelers 35-23.

Dallas, Washington and Philadelphia should be outstanding attractions here and around the league because of their off-season swapping.

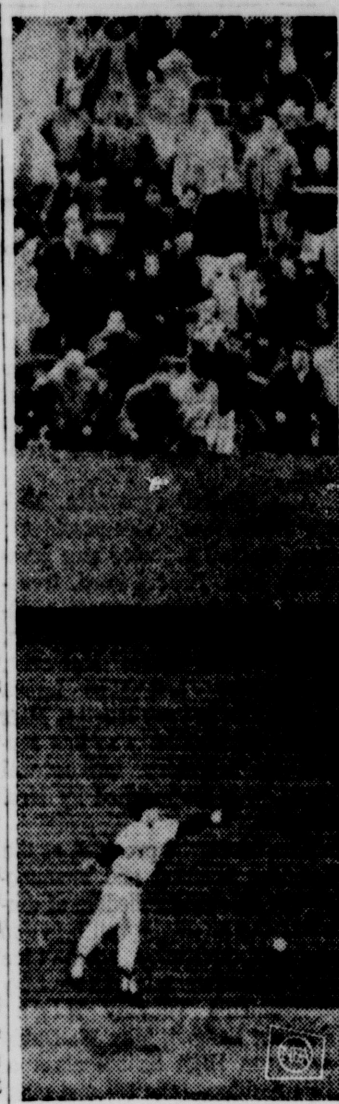

Dallas has the sensational Buddy Dial and Tommy McDonald joining Frank Clarke, Lee Folkins and Pettis Norman as receivers for Don Meredith's passing; Washington added Sonny Jurgensen and Sam Huff to the devastating Bobby Mitchell while the Philadelphia roster will include Norm Snead, Ollie Matson, Sam Baker and Floyd Peters among the many fresh faces to be brought in by new coach Joe Kuharich.

The Giants, not willing to stand pat with a winner, also have been involved in several major trades, getting Andy Stynchula and Dick James from Washington and sending Dick Modzelewski to the Browns for Bobby Crespino.

But the champs will still be relying on those old reliables—Y. A. Tittle, Del Shofner, Frank Gifford, Alex Webster, Rosie Brown, Don Chandler, Jim Katcavage and Dick Lynch.

WITH DETROIT and Green Bay on the schedule, the Browns will be up against double trouble from the West. Both will be further strengthened this year with the return of Paul Hornung to the Packers and Alex Karras to Detroit.

The pre-season doubleheader, now established as one of the nation's most successful and spectacular sporting events, will be of special interest since the Giants, Lions and Packers all must be faced by the Browns in the regular season. More than 160,000 fans attended the first two double-headers and another great crowd is expected for this third annual attraction.

OFF THE WALL—Red Sox centerfielder Tony Conigliaro missed this long Mickey Mantle fly off the wall but the Sox, playing in Boston, still won the game from the Yankees.

Warriors Dump Celtics 115-91 In NBA Playoff

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Coach Alex Hannum and his San Francisco Warriors, the rough-and-tough Cinderellas of the hardwood, have high hopes now of catching the Boston Celtics and winning the National Basketball Association crown.

"That was the style of aggressive game which has been so important to us this year," said Hannum.

The Warriors, who won the Western Division crown after finishing fourth a year ago, had whipped the Celtics 115 - 91 Wednesday night in a "must" game for them.

For Boston had won the first two of this best four-of-seven playoff for the NBA title.

"We played our type of game and we plan to keep going this way from now on," Hannum continued.

Game No. 4 comes Friday night in the Cow Palace.

Tom Meschery tied the NBA playoff record of eight field goals in a quarter, hitting 17 points in the opening stanza as the warriors surged to a 40-21 lead.

Wilt Chamberlain scored 35 as high point man for the game and was the winner this time in his perennial battle with the Celtics' Bill Russell.

Barons Beat Quebec 2-1 For 3-0 Lead

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Barons are only one victory away from their ninth American Hockey League Calder Cup and in a position to set a league record for consecutive playoff victories.

They came from behind with a goal in each of the last two periods Wednesday night to beat the Quebec Aces, 2-1, and take a 3-0 lead in the final playoff series for the Calder Cup, which they have not won since 1957.

The Barons' string of eight victories ties an AHL playoff record set by Indianapolis in 1950 and tied by Springfield in 1961.

Coach Fred Glover's crew was the underdog at the start of each playoff series after finishing the regular season in third place in the AHL's Western Division. But Cleveland upset Rochester in two straight and then took three in a row from Hershey to enter the series against the aces, who finished first in the Eastern Division.

The fourth game of the current best-of-seven series will be played here Saturday night. The sixth and seventh games, if needed, will be played in Cleveland next Wednesday and in Quebec May 2, respectively.

Daylight Saving Time Scramble Returns Sunday

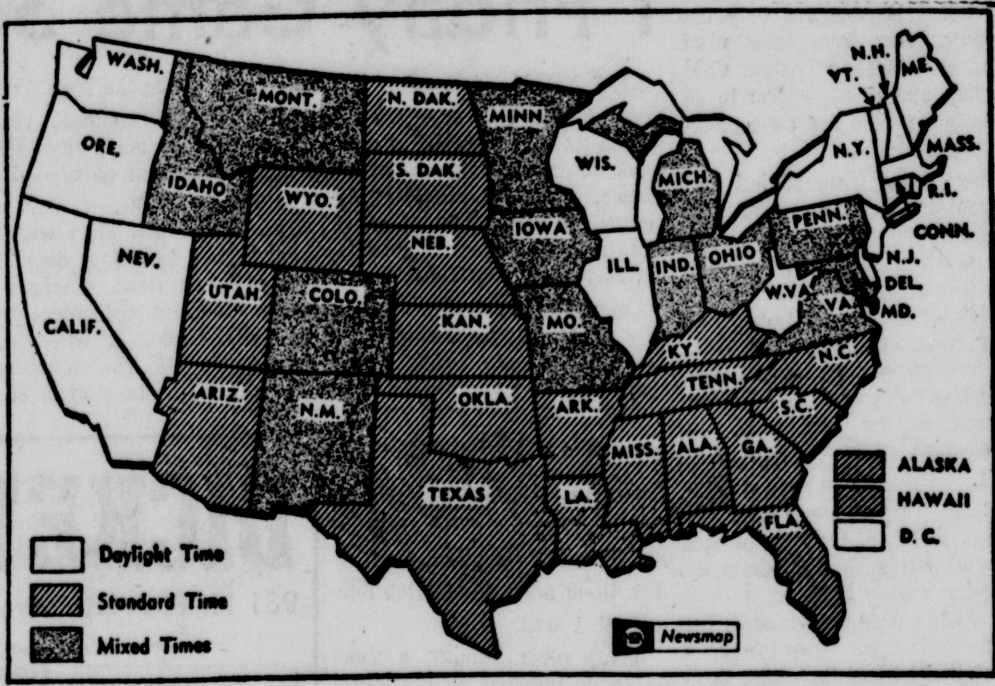

When The Chimes Sound It'll Be?

Just before going to bed Saturday night, roughly 100 million Americans — Salemites included — will begin to play Daylight Saving Time Scramble—a hectic guessing game with few fixed rules which lasts anywhere from two to six months.

The first phase is the guesswork: whether to set the clock ahead an hour or back an hour to be "right" at 2 a.m. Sunday when DST goes into effect.

Despite urgings from newspapers, radio and television to turn the clocks ahead, a good many will guess wrong — and be two hours late for 10 o'clock church services.

The game doesn't stop when everyone's clock is correctly juggled. For the 21 million people living in 13 states which only partially adopt DST, the fun is just beginning. Here, local rules-of-thumb add a certain spice to the game.

IN IDAHO, which has no state DST law, individual merchants are free to change time at will. Enterprising tavern owners near the borders last year switched to standard time at night to attract tipplers from neighboring Washington and Oregon cut off by DST an hour earlier. The same owners would then open their establishments on DST the next morning.

A 35-mile bus run between Steubenville, Ohio, and Moundsville, W. Va., passes through stops with seven different time changes.

IN ASPEN, COLO. — the only location in the state using DST — ordinances require the city's business to be conducted on standard time only. Motorists gleefully tore up parking tickets issued on DST for two weeks until the town council passed a special rule exempting tickets from the ordinance.

IN IOWA, only 19 cities observe DST, but they begin their observance on seven different dates ranging from April 26 to June 1, and return to standard time on six different dates between Aug. 23 and Oct. 25.

WHAT TIME IS IT? — That's going to be the question uppermost in many minds for months to come, as daylight time holds sway in various portions of the nation. Regulations peculiar to individual regions are too numerous to list on newspaper, above, but main qualifications are as follows: Generally observed dates for Daylight Saving Time are from April 26 through Oct. 25. Other, arbitrary stop-and-start dates for daylight time prevail in Montana, Idaho, Colorado, New Mexico, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, and Maryland.

For two months in 1959 some offices in the Minnesota State Capitol building operated on DST while others used standard time.

A businessman flying from Washington, D.C. (DST) to Norfolk, Va. (EST) arrives five minutes before he leaves. Flying from Norfolk to Washington, he kills an hour and 55 minutes.

SALISBURY, MD., last year changed from standard to daylight on April 29, back to standard on May 30, to daylight again on Sept. 3 and back to standard on Oct. 28.

MENOMINEE COUNTY, Mich., has three separate time zones: one which uses DST the year-round, another which changes to DST when Wisconsin switches and a third which changes in accordance with nearby Dickinson County.

In all, 29 states, plus the District of Columbia, switch — or partially switch — to DST. Twenty-four of them change on Sunday.

But only 15 of these change back at the normal time — the last Sunday in October. The remainder return to standard from the middle of July to the middle of October.

HARDEST HIT by the lack of uniform time are the nation's transportation industries.

"Passengers get mad when they can't understand the time changes and blame us," says the representative of an eastern bus company. "They wind up driving their cars and we lose the revenue."

New York Cabbies

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Visitors to the World's Fair here will find their stay much more pleasant if they give a little forethought to getting along with New York cab drivers.

They are a race apart, a law unto themselves, and are sometimes as hard to predict as the weather. A few hints as to their nature and strange ways may be in order.

Naturally, the stranger on entering a cab here believes the driver must be speaking in Albanian or some equally foreign tongue.

Actually the language is Brooklynese, a form of communication whose vowel sounds were borrowed from the screech of subway wheels. Its main words generally can be understood by an out-of-towner after three days of concentrated listening.

The New York cabby is a proud man and refuses to wear a uniform. If prizes were given for sartorial neatness, he would win the booby prize. His usual garb consists of a beat-up cap, an old sweater or wrinkled windbreaker, and the kind of odd trousers other people wear on Halloween.

Our cabbies also pride themselves on lack of service. If the driver leaps out of his vehicle, opens the door, and salutes you smartly as you enter or leave, you'd better look at your road map again. You undoubtedly are in some other city. That just don't happen here.

Don't be surprised if your driver bursts suddenly into song or starts reeling off a string of Joe Miller jokebook gags. Four out of five hackies here are convinced they are born singers or comedians. They go through their acts hopeful that sooner or later one of their passengers will turn out to be a television producer looking for new talent.

As to destinations, it is better for you to choose one of three—Penn Station, Grand Central terminal or the Empire State Building. These are the only places in New York City that most cab drivers have heard of, although now and then you may ride with an old-timer who recalls where Grant's Tomb is.

Never tell a driver your troubles or ailments. He'll top you every time. If you tell him you have a toothache, he is almost certain to reply, "What's a sore tooth? My cousin has gallstones — and never a word of complaint out of him."

Unless the sun is shining brightly, their isn't much point in trying to hail a cab. At the first sign of rain or snow, every cabbie automatically locks his doors, puts up his "Off Duty" sign and drives off for coffee.

One final point—the matter of tipping. Manhattan cabbies are convinced to a man that anybody hailing from west of the Hudson River, north of the Bronx, or south of Staten Island is a tightwad.

To really please a cabby after paying your fare, you should hold out your wallet and let him have at least 20 per cent of all you have left.

Or you might simply arrange to adopt him. That would be cheaper.

The Association of American Railroads figures DST costs the country's railroads about $1 million annually in rescheduling trains, printing new timetables and the like.

The device of advancing the clock one hour was first adopted by Congress in 1918, when the United States was in World War I. It was repealed after the war. Except for 1951-55 when "war time" was again enacted, the matter has been left to the discretion of the individual states.

Last summer, the Senate Commerce Committee unanimously and favorably reported out a bill which provides the Interstate Commerce Commission with authority to establish DST areas within each standard time zone, lasting from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October. The boundaries of these areas would be determined by the desires of those affected.

The bill is currently pending before the Senate Democratic Policy Committee.

In the meantime, various government departments and independent agencies have formed a "Uniform Time Conference," under the sponsorship of the Transportation Association of America.

Among other things, the conference will try to keep abreast of unilateral decisions by states affecting time zone boundaries — such as the ruling last winter by the Indiana State Legislature to change the western half of the state from CST to EST.

The next weekend, 30 special buses arrived at the Notre Dame-Purdue football game one hour after the game started.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

This Saturday night, providing the weather is OK, Canfield's first stock car race will be held. I am helping to sponsor a couple cars again this year.

Auto racing has always been one of my favorite sports. I have a couple tickets to the Indianapolis 500. My brother Bob and I are going to stop by and see that race on our trip.

The Karts are running out back here each Sunday afternoon now.
